

Mauro Lollo

Mauro Lollo is a recognized technology business leader and entrepreneur. Having founded a leading IT integration firm, he led through many disruptive changes during the evolution of the modern IT industry, building the organization to prominence on a national scale. As a venture capitalist, Mauro maintains involvement in startup ventures and technology incubators.

BIO

Mauro's expertise and ability to predict, analyze, and embrace emerging technology trends has helped to keep organizations at the forefront of innovation and business achievement. With over 30 years of experience in managing, implementing and commercializing technologies along with corporate governance and management, Mauro acts as an independent advisor and board member for several organizations.

As a trusted advisor in matters of business and technology, Mauro has helped a number of organizations create outstanding results from intricate problems, relying on his integrity and commitment to their success. His technical acumen spans several areas including application development, large-scale network platforms, collaboration systems and cloud computing.

Mauro is a sought after speaker at industry events and often acts as a facilitator and educator. He has authored texts and white papers, in addition to being a published author with various television appearances.

Major Professional Highlights

- ▶ CEO / CTO level management
- ▶ Board Director (Corporate & Advisory)
- ▶ Information Systems Technologist, Consultant
- ▶ Entrepreneurial / Innovation Mentor

About Mauro...

Mauro has been involved with significant entrepreneurial and venture activities in addition to having interests in energy and environmental issues.

Mauro resides with his family in Toronto, Canada and is a frequent global traveller.